OVER a hundred years ago, long before the discovery of depositing silver by electricity, this business was established and speedily gained the front rank in the manufacture of Britannia Metal and the celebrated Old Sheffield Plate.

Some of the firm's early productions are now to be found, described and illustrated in the connoisseur's handbooks, as specimens worthy the collector's search. Above is an illustration of Cornish Place in the year, 1822, situate on the banks of the (then silvery) Don, midst woodlands and green pastures. Below is a view of the works to-day, rebuilt, extended and fitted with plant, machinery and all the latest inventions and appliances known to the trade, for the production of Silver, Electro-Plate, etc., both artistic and useful.

The Founder of the Firm, Mr. James Dixon, in thanking his workpeople for the Silver Epergne which they presented to him on his seventieth birthday, shortly after his retirement from business in 1842, said, "When I commenced business in 1805, I determined that nothing should go out of the factory, bearing my name, that would disgrace that name."

CORNISH PLACE, 1908.

Therein lies the key to the reputation of the firm—a reputation which succeeding generations have maintained and will continue to maintain.

IN issuing our new Catalogue, we take the opportunity of including a few photographs of our workshops, believing that they will prove of interest to our numerous friends, more especially perhaps, to those abroad. It is impossible to give here a detailed description of the various processes in the manufacture of Electro Plate. The crude minerals are smelted and cast into ingots. The above illustration shows the Mill in which the ingots are rolled into sheets and drawn into wires, also cut into blanks for Spoons and Forks. The photograph below shows part of the Steam-stamp shop, the hammers of these stamps range up to a ton in weight. Friction stamps are used for small articles. Hollow-ware is stamped in solid steel dies under these stamps. Our collection of dies, made during a century is practically priceless and some of them which were cut in the old days for making Sheffield Plate are still being used for making goods in Silver and Electro-Plate.

HERE is a view of one of our Spinning Shops, where circular and oval bodies, not obtainable from dies, etc., are produced from a flat piece of metal. This process is a particularly interesting sight to an outsider, as the shape becomes quickly visible on the lathe, when manipulated by a skilled workman. To produce a Vase or the body of a Teapot, a sheet of prepared flat metal is fixed into the lathe, with a wooden chuck of the required shape. While it is revolving at a very high speed it is worked by the Spinner, with specially adapted tools, until the metal is laid over and has assumed the shape of the chuck.

The picture on the left shows a Burnishing Room. Burnishing is the final process, which is done by means of tools made of finely polished steels or stones. This process not only gives brilliancy to the article, but hardens the silver by closing in the pores.

ELECTRO-PLATING was invented over half-a-century ago by a Sheffield surgeon. We were amongst the first to adopt and develop this now universal method of plating. We give an illustration of one of our Plating Rooms, which takes the current from three Dynamos of 400 Amperes each.

The accompanying picture shows part of one of the Sheffield Showrooms. These and our London Showrooms, 14, St. Andrew Street, Holborn Circus, E.C., are constantly being replenished with specimens of new patterns and periodical visits from our customers are solicited, so that they may see a more varied and complete selection than it is possible for our travellers to carry.

THE prices have been carefully revised throughout this Catalogue, which cancels all previous lists.

We have endeavoured to make this edition as comprehensive as possible and many new and original designs are included, but space will not allow us to illustrate more than a selection of our productions.

The prices of Sterling Silver articles are printed in thick type, thus:—£3 5 0. They are liable to slight variation according to weight and fluctuation of the market.

We request our friends to refrain from cutting or tearing out pages from this catalogue, for the purpose of sending illustrations to customers. We hold a stock of separate pages and we will forward copies at any time upon request.

We shall be pleased to supply blocks of any articles illustrated in this catalogue. A charge of 1/- each will be made if they are not returned within a reasonable period.

NAUTICAL TROPHY

SPECIALLY DESIGNED AND EXECUTED FOR PRESENTATION BY THE PEOPLE OF NATAL TO H.M.S. "NATAL."

The Centre-piece consists of a Jardinière in the form of a Galley decoratively treated, with Cupids on either side, carrying enamelled flags, the ropes and anchors being exact models of those used on H.M.S. "Victory." On the pedestal are figures symbolical of the four winds, driving sea-horses, between which are enamelled views, the whole resting on Dolphin feet. The Electroliers are treated in the same artistic manner.

Directions for Use.

Fit the large perforated metal cone into the ring, the small cone of which is covered with muslin, the small cone will then be inside the larger one.

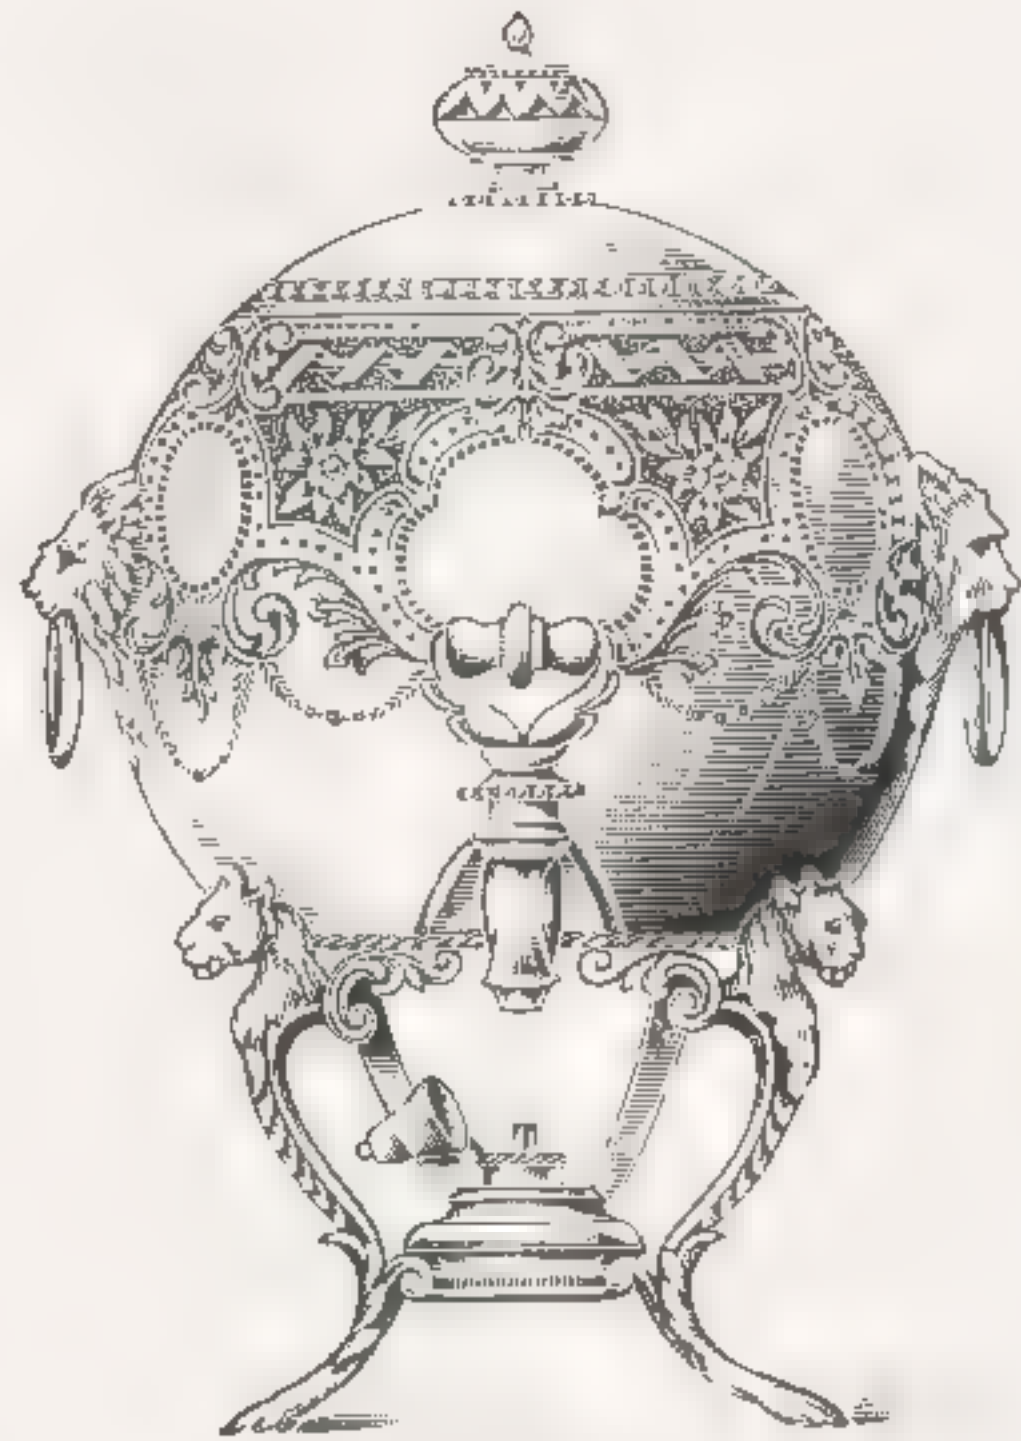

Place them together at the bottom of the urn, cone upwards; then pour in boiling water to warm the Urn and draw it off

Afterwards, put the required quantity of Coffee into the Urn and pour on boiling water quickly. Let the infusion stand a minute or two, and the coffee will be ready to draw off

The first cup should be put back again.

Very fine coffee should not be used, as it impedes percolation.

For making Tea, the same process is to be followed.
